SPECIAL SALE OF BOOKS ABOUT BRISBANE’S HISTORY
PUBLISHED BY BRISBANE HISTORY GROUP AND OTHERS.

To order, email b.metcalf@griffith.edu.au

Contains chapters on Brisbane’s Aboriginal history, Yeronga and Lang Parks, Heritage buildings and much more. Richly illustrated.

Brisbane Diseased: Contagions, Cures and Controversy, edited by Dr Alana Piper, 349 pages, 2016, ($20 / $15 BHG members)
Chapters ranging from Plague, Spanish flu, Polio, Alcoholism and VD, to medical fraud, quackery and hysteria. Illustrated.

Brisbane and World War II, edited by Dr Barry Shaw, 280 pages, 2015, ($30 / $25 BHG members)
Looks at a range of WW2 activities in Brisbane including secret uses of the river, ‘Torpedo Hill’, secrets at Eagle Farm, Women in the military, anti-submarine defence, etc. Illustrated.

Examines the architectural legacy of Robin Dods, one of Brisbane’s best-known and admired architects, offering a walking tour and a driving tour of the city and the suburbs. Illustrated.

Brisbane: Schemes and Dreams, edited by Drs Jennifer Harrison and Barry Shaw, 202 pages, 2014 ($20)
Examines schemes to select ‘proper’ immigrants, dreams of what Brisbane might become, missionaries, bounty hunters and rogues. Illustrated.

This book takes a look at this battle from a Brisbane perspective.

SPECIAL OFFER: Brisbane and World War II, and Tobruk’s Easter Battle 1941 ($35 / $30 BHG members) for the pair.
The Best of Colonial Brisbane, by Dr Rod Fisher, 396 pages, 2012, ($30 / $25 BHG members)

Fernvale or the Queensland Squatter, by Colin Munro (abridged by Dr Rod Fisher) 345 pages, 1862 & 2011, ($10)
This is the first novel set in and about Queensland, originally published in London in 1862. It affords colourful and dramatic insights into life in Brisbane, and Queensland, in the 1860s.

Surveying Success: The Hume family in Colonial Queensland, by Dr Hilary Davies, 246 pages, 2011, ($10)
The remarkable story of Walter and Katie Hume, and family, who really set the stage for the development of a prosperous middle class in Brisbane. Excellent biography which tells a much wider social story. Illustrated.

Brisbane: Houses, Gardens, Suburbs and Congregations, edited by Dr Rod Fisher, 324 pages, 2011 ($15)
Covers houses, churches and gardens across suburbs ranging from Annerley to Stafford, from New Farm to Grange. Illustrated.

Tom Hurstbourne or a Squatter’s Life, by John Claverling Wood, (edited by G Benjamin and G Grant) 305 pages, 2010 ($10)
This is the first novel to have been written in Queensland in 1865, although not published until 2010.

Brisbane: People and Places of Ashgrove, edited by Dr Barry Shaw, 348 pages, 2010 ($15)
Traces Ashgrove from pre-settlement through farming and rural suburb to modern inner city living. It explores some of the key families, Harding of St Johns Wood, Little, etc. Illustrated.

The Making of a Metropolis: Brisbane 1823-1925, by Dr John Laverty, 245 pages, 2009 ($10)
Explores how an early convict settlement grew into a small town, then a city competing with other cities such as South Brisbane, and triumphed by amalgamating all competition as the largest (in area) city in Australia. Illustrated.

Boosting Brisbane: Imprinting the Colonial Capital of Queensland, by Dr Rod Fisher, 298 pages, 2009 ($5)
“Being a gauche little outpost of empire, Brisbane needed all the help”. This book shows examples of people ‘Boosting’ Brisbane into a respectable state capital. Illustrated.
Examines the technology and politics of the development of water resources, steam power, electricity, gas and public transport.
Illustrated.

Describes the early Scottish settlers such as Mackenzie, Petrie and Lang, development of suburbs such as Kangaroo Point, and the infamous ‘Kilcoy poisonings’. Illustrated

Bardon Heritage Tour, by Dr Barry Shaw, 28 pages ($2)
A walking and driving tour of a fascinating inner Brisbane suburb. Illustrated

Johnny Cassim: Coolie, Convict, Catechumen Colonial Entrepreneur 1814-1884, by Patrick Tynan, 102 pages, 2005 ($5)
Cassim was a Muslim convict, sent to Van Diemen’s Land, then Moreton Bay. For many years he ran a hotel and mixed with all classes of society. Illustrated

The Dutch Houses of Coopers Plains: A Postwar Housing debacle at Brisbane, by Alfons Vernooy, 120 pages, 2004 ($5)
Examines a little-known, post-war public housing scheme which had unintended consequences. Illustrated.

Examines early Moreton Bay lighthouses, indigenous residents, early farming, fishing and other industries, as well as institutions such as the leper colony and prison. Illustrated.

Articles about sport, dancing, art, nightlife, literature, travel, drinking and carousing – and Rock ‘n’ Roll. Illustrated

Brisbane: Squatters, Settlers and Surveyors, edited by Drs Rod Fisher and Jennifer Harrison, 159 pages, 2000, ($10)
Covers why Brisbane is where it is and why it’s laid out as it is, its founding families, as well as the political tensions between rural and urban interests. Illustrated.
Our Federation:
Brisbane Through the News 1901, edited by Dr Katherine McConnel, 246 pages, 2002 ($2)
Examines how others saw the small city of Brisbane - and how Brisbanites saw their own thriving city in 1901. A detailed examination of Brisbane when Australia became a nation. Illustrated.

Our Federation 1901: Brisbane Heritage Trail, edited by Dr Rod Fisher et al, 107 pages, 2001 ($2)
A detailed walking tour of central Brisbane with all the sites significant to Federation, as well as a drive through older suburbs. Illustrated with detailed maps.

Our Federation: Brisbane: Patriotism, Passion and Protest, edited by Dr Barry Shaw, 109 pages, 2001 ($2)
Examines how Federation came about in Brisbane, key players and events, and the repercussions. Illustrated

Moreton Bay in the News 1841-1860: A Select Subject Index, by Dr Rod Fisher and John Schiavo, 180 pages, 2000 ($5)
An exhaustive listing of news items about early Brisbane indexed under ‘place’, ‘subject’ and ‘persons’. A wonderful aid to people interested in early Brisbane.

Enoggera District Heritage Trail, by Barbara Gunn and Maureen Shannon, 32 pages ($2)
Walking or driving tour, with maps. Illustrated

Stombuco Heritage Tour, by Caroline Smith and Dr Rod Fisher, 44 pages, 1999 ($5)
Andrea Stombuco (1820-1907) was one of the most creative architects in 19th century Brisbane and has left a rich legacy ranging from iconic Petrie Terrace houses and St Joseph Christian Brothers College to St Patrick’s Church and all Hallows Convent School. Illustrated.

Stombuco: The Building of Brisbane in the 19th Century, by Piero Giorgi, 136 pages, 1998 ($10)
Andrea Stombuco was an important Brisbane architect between 1875 and 1890 who has left a legacy of wonderful, iconic buildings. This book explores the man as well as his work. Illustrated.
The Mitchie Picture Show, by Kevin Olivieri, 35 pages, 2000 ($2)
This tells the story of the picture theatre that opened in 1916 in Mitchelton, and of the Nugent family who owned and operated it. Illustrated.

The Hands that made the Cement, by Judith Anderson, 32 pages ($5)
A history of the Darra Cement Plant, the area, and of those who worked there. Illustrated.

The River Very Beautiful, by Dr John Steele, 26 pages, 1998, ($2)
This traces and reveals the story of the first three white people to be in Brisbane, Thomas Pamphlet, John Finnegan and John Uniacke, in 1823. Much of the story is in their own words.

Brisbane: People, Places and Progress, edited by Drs Rod Fisher and Barry Shaw, 174 pages, 1995 ($2)
Chapters about suburbs including Woolloongabba, Coorparoo, Kedron, Bulimba, Norman Park and about key political families such as Nicklin, Lutwyche and King. Illustrated.

St Lucia campus Heritage Tour, by Sylvia Bannah, 32 pages, 1998 ($2)
A walking tour of Brisbane’s oldest university. Illustrated

Brisbane: Cemeteries as Sources, edited by Drs Rod Fisher and Barry Shaw, 141 pages, 1994, ($5)
Examines Brisbane cemeteries and associated monumental works and morticians. Illustrated.

Brisbane: Corridors of Power, edited by Dr Barry Shaw, 214 pages, 1997 ($5)
With chapters about Brisbane’s Town/City Halls, Government House, Parliament, Constitution, Women in/out of power, etc. Authors include Peter Beattie, Ross Fitzgerald and John Laverty. Illustrated.

Brisbane: The Ethnic Presence since the 1850s, edited by Drs Rod Fisher and Barry Shaw, 132 pages, 1993 ($2)
Examines Italian, Welsh, Jewish, German and Greek migrants, as well as alien presences such as Nazis. Illustrated.
Queensland Architects of the 19th Century: A Biographical Dictionary, by Drs Donald Watson and Judith McKay, 225 pages, 1994, and Index, compiled by Dr Judith Nissen ($20 for both)

Contains a detailed introduction to 19th century Brisbane Architects, architecture, the detailed descriptions running from Addison to Zouch. Indexed. Illustrated.

Between Kedron Brook and Taylor Range: Historical aspects of Seven Suburbs, by Maureen Shannon and Barbara Gunn, 36 pages, 2004 ($2).

Examines the farming, military, recreation and many other uses of this area, and plots the development of the modern suburbs. Illustrated.

Brisbane’s Commercial Heritage 1900-1940, by Helen Bennett et al, 72 pages, 2002, ($2)

Brisbane Timeline: From Captain Cook to City Cat, by Dr Rod Fisher et al, 394 pages, 1999 ($10)

This is an exhaustive listing of events occurring in Brisbane and environs since 1770, listed under ‘General’, ‘Social’, ‘Cultural’ and ‘Environmental’. A valuable guide to anyone interested in Brisbane’s history.

Diggles Down Under: Brisbane via Sydney from Merseyside 1855-80, by Dr Rod Fisher, 2003 ($10)

“Birds and butterflies, art and science, music and religion – this man did it all. He was born at the port of Liverpool in 1817. In his thirties he brought family and skills to Sydney and then Brisbane in 1855. In colonial outpost he made his mark but died in 1880 a disappointed man. This is the Triumph and Tragedy of Silvester Diggles.” He was an amazing artist, musician, scientist and humanist. Illustrated.
Spring Hill Heritage Tour, by Dr Rod Fisher, 24 pages, 1993 ($2)
A walking tour of one of Brisbane’s oldest suburbs. Illustrated

Bald Hills Heritage Tour, by Dr Barry Shaw, 28 pages, 1993 ($5)
Walking or driving tour, descriptions of buildings and streets. Illustrated

Colonial George and William Street Heritage Tour, by Dr Rod Fisher, 22 pages, 1991 ($2)
Walking tour. Illustrated

This anthology, mostly based on original texts, helps us understand the opening up of the Brisbane River Valley and the key actors. Illustrated.

Eastern Suburbs Placenames Drive, by Drs Rod Fisher and Jennifer Harrison, 20 pages, 1990 ($2)
This tour explores and explains how places came to be named in inner southeast Brisbane. Illustrated

In the Capacity of a Surgeon, by John Pearn, 226 pages, 1988, ($5)
This biography of Walter Scott (1787-1854), the first person to act ‘in the capacity of a surgeon’ in what is now Brisbane. This book offers insights into both the founding of Brisbane as well as early 19th century medical care here. Illustrated

Brisbane: Archives and Approaches II, 184 pages, 1988, ($5)
Describes how to approach and make the most out of a wide range of archives to help with research. Illustrated.

Brisbane Butterflies and Beetles: The Work of Amelie Dietrich, Millais Culpin and Alfred Jefferis Turner, by Drs Ray Summer and John Thearle, 1989, 157 pages ($2)
Looks at the above three naturalists, examines through their own records how they lived and worked, and offers insights into science in 19th century Brisbane. Illustrated.
Brisbane: People, Places and Pageantry, 222 pages, 1987 ($5)
Explores Brisbane people such as the Toohey, Moffat, and McConnel families, places and events such as the first steamship service to Sydney, and pageantry such as the Princess Theatre, South Brisbane. Illustrated.

Brisbane: Archives and Approaches I, 95 pages, 1983 ($5)
Describes how to approach and make the most out of a wide range of archives to help with research. Illustrated.